Course Description

This course is to prepare law enforcement officers to be effective trainers for their agencies and MTUs, to complete all attendance records, and complete paperwork required by the Illinois Law Enforcement Training and Standards Board.

Course Objectives

1. A trainer's legal professional responsibilities.
2. How to assess trainee needs and abilities in order to write learning objectives and a source document that fit.
3. How and why the trainer must build a communication climate for learning.
4. Discuss and teach the logic, design, and use of a teaching lesson plan.
5. How to write achievable learning objectives, a lesson plan, a source document, a course synopsis, and test questions—clarifying the legal and practical purposes and responsibilities of each.
6. Methods for increasing public speaking confidence and reducing nervousness, towards increasing quality training.
7. The most effective use of PowerPoint and its deficits.
8. How to test fairly and to accurately measure training goals.

Instructor

Jan Mirikitani has taught this course for over 25 years. She has been a law enforcement and government trainer since 1989, has done multiple state and national conferences, and works regularly for federal, state, and municipal governments. Jan is a trusted friend of law enforcement.
