Course Description

The PPCT Defensive Tactics System is the first subject control system developed through tactical, legal and medical research. Tactically, it addresses the most common types of resistance officer's encounter. Legally, the system teaches a simple but comprehensive use of force continuum that clarifies the appropriate force level for every level of resistance. Medical research was conducted on every PPCT technique to refine technique efficiency by educating officers on such principals as pain compliance and motor response. Course content includes: Principals of controlling resistive behavior, pressure point control tactics, use of force continuum, countermeasures, stimulus response

Course Objectives

- Principals of Control
- Handcuffing
- Pressure Point Control Tactics
- Joint Locks
- Defensive Counterstrikes
- Baton techniques (straight and expandable)
- Weapon retention and disarming

*All of the above use of force procedures will involve students applying the techniques in scenario based training during simulated physical arrest situations.

Instructor

Chief Ed Wilkerson of the Millstadt (IL) Police Department will be the instructor for this course. Chief Wilkerson is a certified Instructor Trainer with "P.P.C.T. Management Systems".
